

Free Books In keeping with the program's mission "to promote literacy and the love of reading by building free book exchanges worldwide."

By January 2014, the number of registered Little Free Libraries in the world was conservatively estimated at nearly 15,000. Little waterloo Library offers a wealth of knowledge that provides books, magazine, newspapers, computer access, adult and children's programming, history and so much more, she added.

A range of books from children's stories to adult paperback and hardcover books will be placed ing the libraries. For more information about Little Free Libraries in Seneca County, contact Lowry at (315) 719-2430 or bccclowry@hotmail.com.

Waterloo Rotary meets every Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn. New members are proper work practices to protect residents and the environment from lead hazards.

A big thank you goes out to Leslie VanHorn and family from Heavenly Tree Care who donated time and equipment (an aerial bucket), NAPA in Ovid for its donation of sandpaper, local business-

again

The Seneca Falls Historical Society has felt time standing still this past year since its Town Clock stopped working. Everyone misses the clock as they drive on

◆ Please turn to page 5

Summer food program to be provided throughout the county

The Waterloo Central School District has announces its participation in the Summer Food Service Program. Free meals will be made available to all attending children 18 and under and person's 21 and under who are mentally or physically challenged. No application is necessary. Meals are available without regard to race, color, sex, age, national origin or disabilities.

The district will operate the program at Waterloo Memorial Youth & Community Center, 11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, July 6 through Aug. 7. Fridays will feature field trips with lunch provided.

For more information on the Summer Lunch Feeding Program in Seneca County, Please contact Brian Corey at (315) 539-1556 or brian.corey@waterloocsd.org.

Romulus Central School District is also participating at the school, July 6-Aug. 7. Breakfast and lunch will be served. Contact the site for meal times and hours open, (866) 810-0345.

Summer meals for south county kids and teens will also be available through South Seneca. There is no cost or enrollment.

Feeding sites will be moved around. South Seneca Middle/High School will be open through July 31. Use the gym entrance. Breakfast is at 8:45 a.m. and lunch at 11:45 a.m. First Baptist Church, Interlaken, will be a site July 6-Aug. 7. Breakfast is at 9 a.m. and lunch at 11:30 a.m. Lodi Fire Hall is another site, July 6-Aug. 7 Breakfast is at 9 a.m. Lunch is at 11:30 a.m. Children do not have to attend the recreation program to participate in the free meal program.

For more information, call (607) 869-9636, Ext. 4111 or e-mail kbishop@southseneca.org.

Landfill doles out scholarships

Seneca Meadows awarded eight $1,500 awards to two graduating seniors from each of the four school districts in Seneca County – Mynderse Academy, Romulus Central School, South Seneca Central School and Waterloo Central School. The recipients were selected by the respective school awards committees and the committees chose outstanding students who have chosen to further their education in environmental conservation, environmental science or other related fields of study. Academic achievement, citizenship and extracurricular activities were considered in making the selections.

2015 Peter K. Thummler Scholarship recipients were (Mynderse Academy) Valerie Tuttle, environmental engineering at Clarkson University and Taylor Moskal, pre-environmental science at SUNY-Alfred State; (Romulus) Kelby Karlsen, conservation at Finger Lakes Community College and Tamara Lott, ornamental horticulture at Finger Lakes Community College; (South Seneca) Mark Sabol, to be announced, and Holly Reynolds, to be announced; and (Waterloo) Taylor VanLiew, to be announced, and Christopher Mitchell, to be announced.

This is the 12th year of the annual scholarship making it a total of $108,000 Seneca Meadows has awarded to students in Seneca County. Seneca Meadows plans to continue the scholarship in 2016 as its ongoing initiatives of giving back and encouraging environmental stewardship.

Seneca Meadows is dedicated to the preservation and advancement of the environment, recycling up to two million tires per year, partnering in the production of methane generated energy for 18,000 homes, supporting wetlands conservation and environmental programming, and providing free residential recycling and electronics recycling drop off services.

Around the schools

For more information on community partnerships with Seneca Meadows Landfill, visit senecameadows.com or call (315) 539-5624.