

70

cents

April 30, 2015

Seneca County's Official Newspaper

Volume 157, Number 18

Inside

Courthouse bids awarded

See Page 2

I Love My Park Day planned

See Page 3

SENIOR NEWS OF THE FINGER LAKES

See Page 7-9

Get new plants at plant swap

See Page 10

Light Side

Newspaper articles are not immune to coming up with "foul-ups!" Here are a few:

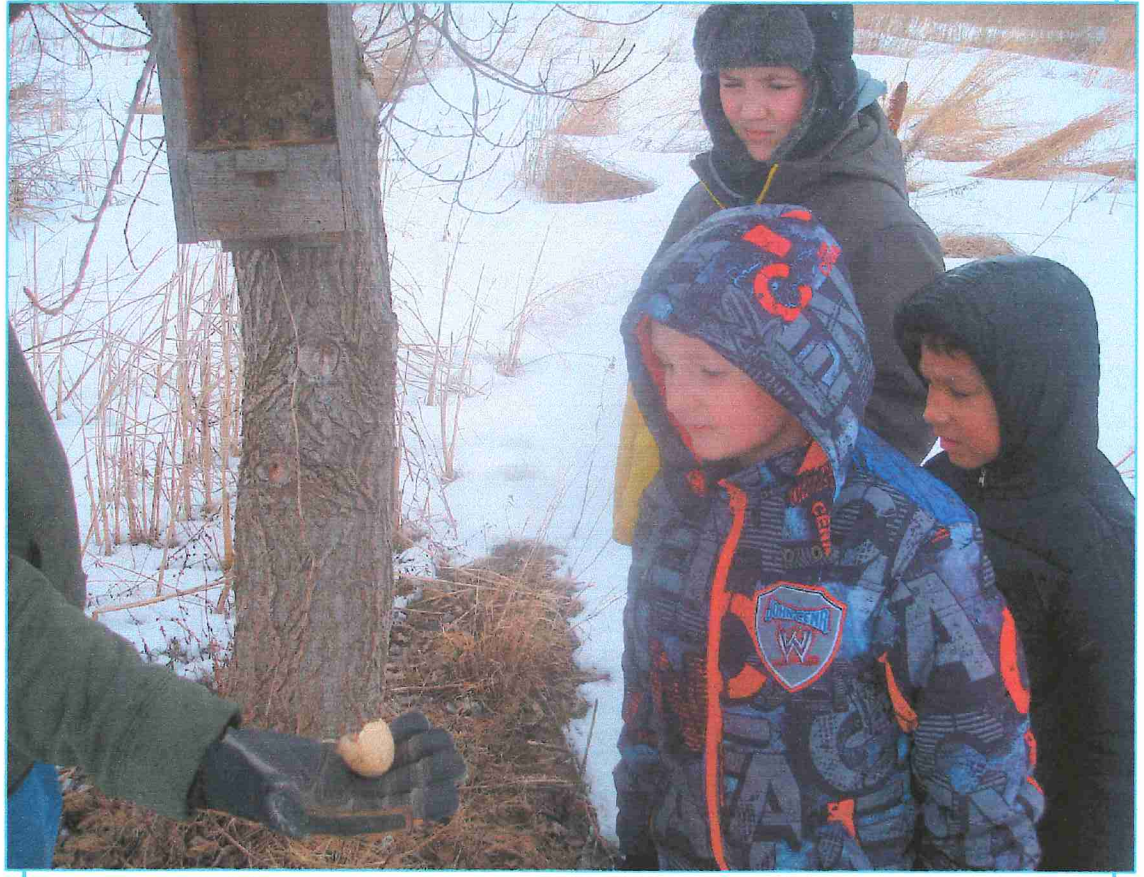

Dr. Benjamin Porter visited the school yesterday and lectured on "Destructive Pests." A large number were present.

The sewer expansion project is nearing completion, but city officials are holding their breath until it is officially finished.

The ladies of the county medical society auxiliary plan to publish a cookbook. Part of the money will go to the Samaritan Hospital to

Around the county 3

Success at Seneca Meadows Preserve

The Ducks Unlimited Greenwings, which is the youth arm of the Seneca Falls Chapter Ducks Unlimited, spent an early spring morning last month at Seneca Meadows Wetlands Preserve realizing the results of last year's wood duck nesting box placements and discovered many ducks had nested and hatched duckling eggs. The Greenwings along with members of Boy Scout Troop 75 and members of the local 4-H group built a total of 14 nesting boxes and six were placed within the 1,100 acre Seneca Meadows Wetlands Preserve last spring. "The Seneca Meadows Wetlands is an ideal spot to install these nesting boxes, and the landfill has been completely supportive of our conservation and habitat efforts," offered area Chairman Mike Ernst. "Mark [Benjamin] and Ben [Zimmerman] go to great lengths to make sure we have the support we need." The annual partnership between Seneca Falls Ducks Unlimited and Seneca Meadows was established to promote environmental conservation with area youth organizations. Ducks Unlimited approached the landfill on ideas to engage youth activities outdoors, and to utilize this approach to address environmental conservation needs for future generations. "Seneca Meadows has a proven track record of protecting the environment for our future generations, and this youth project helps carry these ideals into the future," added Ernst. "The Greenwings were able to see their efforts pay off this year with finding hatched eggs in the nesting boxes." Those interested in joining Ducks Unlimited should contact area Ernst at (315) 568-6710.